

As we prepare for our upcoming event at the Carolina Theatre, we want to share some very important venue guidelines to ensure a safe and successful weekend for everyone.

The Carolina Theatre is a historic venue (nearly 100 years old), and while it offers your dancers the incredible opportunity to perform on a true theatre stage, there are some space limitations we must all respect.

Dressing Room & Space Limitations

- Dressing rooms and common areas are very limited in size and capacity.
- Studios must pack thoughtfully and efficiently.
- Please limit luggage to essentials only—large rolling racks, multiple oversized suitcases are discouraged, and pop-up tents are not permitted as they create unsafe conditions.

Occupancy & Safety

- Dressing rooms are for dancers and essential assistants only.
- Friends and family members are not permitted to gather in dressing rooms.
- Changing in hallways or lobby areas is strictly prohibited.
- These policies are in place to comply with fire safety regulations—failure to follow them could result in the event being shut down.

Room Assignments

- Studios must remain in their assigned dressing areas only.
- The Renaissance Room is frequently used due to its convenience, but only studios assigned to that space may set up there.
- Star Talent staff will be enforcing room assignments throughout the weekend.
- Please note that all dressing areas will require 1–2 flights of stairs. Plan accordingly when packing and preparing dancers.

We understand these guidelines may require some extra planning, but they are essential to maintaining a safe and organized event for all participants. We appreciate your cooperation and support in helping us respect the venue and its policies.
